

Free public three-day viewing
of the recorded webinar
4-6 October 2024

The North Carolina Genealogical Society presents:

Jennifer Crowder Daugherty

“Plundering for Genealogical Treasures at East Carolina University”

For more information and to view the webinar, go to www.ncgenealogy.org

About the Webinar: The Special Collections Division at ECU holds a treasure-trove of materials to help with your family history search in North Carolina. This talk covers the types of resources found in the North Carolina Collection and the East Carolina Manuscripts Collection including family histories, county record abstracts and transcriptions, maps, diaries, letters, personal papers, and more. How to gain access to these materials will also be covered. No relationship to Blackbeard required.

Webinar Viewing Options

- The free public three-day viewing of this recorded webinar will be 4-6 October 2024.
- After the free replay weekend, the webinar and accompanying handout PDF will be accessible on the website to NCGS members as a member benefit. Not a member? Join today by visiting the Membership tab on the NCGS website.

Jennifer Crowder Daugherty holds her Bachelor's of Art in English with a minor in Women's Studies from Eastern Kentucky University. She obtained her Master's in Library Science from Indiana University with a concentration in Archives and Records Management. Her career as a librarian/archivist spans over fifteen years, with the last five in her current position as the North Carolina Collection Librarian at Joyner Library, East Carolina University. At the beginning of 2023, she stepped into the role of president of the North Carolina Genealogical Society after serving on the board for

Watch the NCGS News newsletter and the NCGS website for the current webinar schedule.

Follow us on Facebook (www.facebook.com/ncgenealogy) for the latest news about upcoming events.
